

Modules – Comments

Comments enable you to create micro-communities around any type of content on your website. Comments encourage visitor participation on your website, creating an increased level of transparency and higher levels of credibility for your business. Comments also help towards creating a sense of community on your website.

It's likely that you've already seen similar Comments features implemented on most blogs. Accepting reader-input on ones blog entry is now more or less a standard. However with this system you can encourage user-input on any type of content and not just blog entries such as Web Pages, FAQs, Announcements, Web App Items, Products and more.

Comments made on your site are part of the Live Feed on your Dashboard Home Page. You can also setup workflows to receive an email or text message when a user makes a comment on your site.
